To understand how organisations create knowledge dynamically, we propose a model of knowledge creation consisting of three elements: (i) the SECI process, the process of knowledge creation through conversion between tacit and explicit knowledge; (ii) ba, the shared context for knowledge creation; and (iii) knowledge assets—the inputs, outputs, and moderator of the knowledge-creating process. On StuDocu you find all the study guides, past exams and lecture notes you need to pass your exams with better grades. Chatham House is the origin of the non-attribution rule known as the Chatham House Rule, which provides that guests attending a meeting may discuss the content of the meeting in the outside world, but may not discuss who attended or identify what a specific individual said. The Chatham House Rule evolved to facilitate frank and honest discussion on controversial or unpopular issues by speakers ... Join us.
