We lie back to back. Curtains lift and fall, like the chest of someone sleeping. End Of The World. When I was ...Poems about School. You'll find poems that talk about the various stages of education, including verses about preschool, kindergarten, primary, middle, and high school. One is about going back to school, while another one talks about the first day of school. The verse that talks about the end of the school year is one of the more popular ones. For many years I have used the following poems at the end of the school year. I print out the following poem for each student and place it in a frame as a student gift. We have our spring program the week before school ends and I take a picture with each student to use for this gift. With so many great children's poems out there, it's hard to pick favorites! But we accepted the challenge, asking for favorite poems for elementary school from the WeAreTeachers HELPLINE group on Facebook and gathering recommendations from our staff. Here are a some poems that will help start a good discussion in your classroom.
