Democracy (Greek: δημοκρατία dēmokratía, literally "Rule by 'People'") is a system of government where the citizens exercise power by voting. In a direct democracy, the citizens as a whole form a governing body and vote directly on each issue. In a representative democracy the citizens elect representatives from among themselves. These representatives meet to form a governing body ... Social democracy is a political, social and economic ideology that supports economic and social interventions to promote social justice within the framework of a liberal democratic polity and a capitalist economy. The protocols and norms used to accomplish this involve a commitment to representative and participatory democracy, measures for income redistribution and regulation of the economy in ... John Aldag is the Member of Parliament for Cloverdale–Langley City. He sits on the Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable Development, Special Joint Committee on Physician-Assisted Dying and the Subcommittee on Agenda and Procedure of the Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable development. The state of the digitalization of industries varies across sectors, between large companies and SMEs and also between EU states and regions. While Europe defends its leadership in 20th century industries the US and China fiercely compete regarding the leadership on 21st century technologies such as Artificial Intelligence.
